Zenolite - Sleek and modern super high gloss panels

Zenolite is a sleek and modern super high gloss panel that will transform the walls of any kitchen in a few hours.

Zenolite is the tough, light, flexible, cost effective alternative to back-painted glass. Zenolite is 25 times tougher and half the weight of the equivalent glass panel, making it a perfect solution for using it as a kitchen up-stand to renew the kitchen wall.

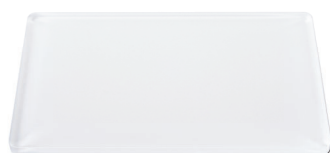

Zenolite can be professionally fabricated to any dimension and it can also be cut and drilled on site using standard wood working tools. This allows for any errors in measurement to be overcome quickly, and dramatically reduces the waste, breakages and long lead-times associated with using glass.

Zenolite is quickly and easily installed – see the video to demonstrate this at our web site: www.davidclouting.co.uk/Zenoliteupstand.html

Zenolite can be installed over many existing wall finishes. The surface is easy to clean and maintain and is backed by a ten year indoor UV warranty.

Zenolite is not suitable for use behind a hob, but complements well with other surface materials to ensure perfect styling in a modern setting.

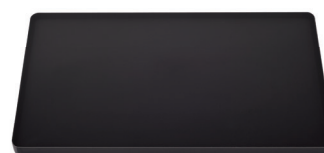

Zenolite's dimensions are 3150mm x 650mm x 6mm thick. It is supplied with removable protective film and cardboard packaging.
